PUBLIC SCHOOL PRINCIPAL POSITION

We are looking for exceptional educators to lead our schools in an environment of greater school autonomy. Principals are expected to provide leadership that mobilises staff, parents and communities to work together to benefit student learning.

Leading a public school is unique. Principals have clear responsibilities and allegiances to the schools they lead and to maximise opportunities for their students to be successful. At the same time, there is a requirement to adopt a leadership role within the public school system, acting in the interests of the whole system and wider community.

Public education in Western Australia is committed to providing a high quality school education for every child - whatever their ability, wherever they live, whatever their background.

Government of Western Australia
Department of Education

Provide every student in your region with a pathway to a successful future

Director of Education

Keyword Search Number: DOE860132
Salary: Director of Education, $202,282 per annum

The Department of Education is the WA public sector's largest employer, with over 55,000 staff across the state delivering quality education for over 320,000 students. The Department's strategic direction, "Every student, every classroom, every day" is exemplified in schools across the state.

We are seeking to fill the position of Director of Education for the South Metropolitan Education Region.

Our Directors of Education will grow the educational leadership capacity across their regions and throughout the public education system. They will work closely with the Deputy Director General Schools to build a strong network of high performing public schools.

Directors of Education will be expected to form a close leadership team in each region. In partnership with school leaders and central staff, they will model and support a culture of school empowerment and collaboration in each region.

We are seeking applicants for this position who are committed and highly capable leaders, with a passion for improving outcomes for all public school students. Applicants with exceptional experience in educational leadership and development are encouraged to apply.
